ArbiterSports recently detected unauthorized access to certain devices in its network and an attempt to encrypt its systems. ArbiterSports immediately took measures to stop the access, launched an investigation, and a security firm was engaged. On July 15, 2020, findings from the investigation identified a backup copy of a database made for business continuity reasons was obtained by the unauthorized party at some point in the prior few weeks. Although ArbiterSports was able to prevent devices from being encrypted, the unauthorized party demanded payment in exchange for deleting the files that were obtained. ArbiterSports reached an agreement and obtained confirmation that the unauthorized party deleted the files.

The database file involved contained the information of 1,790 Delaware residents, including account usernames and passwords, names, addresses, email addresses, dates of birth, and Social Security numbers. The passwords and Social Security numbers were encrypted in the file, but the unauthorized party was able to decrypt the data.

On August 24, 2020, ArbiterSports began notifying Delaware residents in substantially the same form as the enclosed email in accordance with Del. Code § 12B-102(a).¹ ArbiterSports is offering eligible individuals a complimentary, one-year membership to credit monitoring and identity protection services. ArbiterSports has also established a dedicated, toll-free call center where individuals may obtain more information regarding the incident.

To help prevent a similar incident from occurring in the future, ArbiterSports has implemented additional measures and changes to enhance the security of its network.

¹ This notice does not waive ArbiterSports' objection that Delaware lacks personal jurisdiction over it regarding any claims related to this incident.

Security First: External email, use caution clicking links or opening attachments

Dear John Smith,

ArbiterSports is committed to protecting the confidentiality of our customers' information. We are writing to notify you that we recently identified and addressed a data security incident that involved some of your child's information. This notice provides you with a description of the incident, our response, and the steps you may take.

WHAT HAPPENED?

We recently detected unauthorized access to certain devices in our network and an attempt to encrypt our systems. We immediately took measures to stop the access, launched an investigation, and a security firm was engaged. On July 15, 2020, findings from the investigation identified a backup copy of a database made for business continuity reasons that was obtained by the unauthorized party at some point in the prior few weeks. Although we were able to prevent devices from being encrypted, the unauthorized party demanded payment in exchange for deleting the files that were obtained. We reached an agreement and obtained confirmation that the unauthorized party deleted the files.

WHAT INFORMATION WAS INVOLVED?

The database file involved supports ArbiterGame, ArbiterOne, and ArbiterWorks and contained information about our users, including account username and password, name, address, date of birth, email address, and Social Security number. The passwords and Social Security numbers were encrypted in the file, but the unauthorized party was able to decrypt the data.

WHAT WE ARE DOING?

We have implemented additional measures and changes to enhance the security of our network. We also notified law enforcement and are supporting their investigation.

You may obtain a copy of your credit report, free of charge, once every 12 months from each of the three nationwide credit reporting companies. Experian, PO Box 2002, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com, 1-888-397-3742

If you believe you are the victim of identity theft or have reason to believe your personal information has been misused, you should immediately contact the Federal Trade Commission and/or the Attorney General's office in your state. You can obtain information from these sources about steps an individual can take to avoid identity theft as well as information about fraud alerts and security freezes. You should also contact your local law enforcement authorities and file a police report. Obtain a copy of the police report in case you are asked to provide copies to creditors to correct your records. Contact information for the Federal Trade Commission is as follows:

Federal Trade Commission, Consumer Response Center, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580, 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338), www.ftc.gov/idtheft

Fraud Alerts and Credit or Security Freezes:

Fraud Alerts: There are two types of general fraud alerts you can place on your credit report to put your creditors on notice that you may be a victim of fraud—an initial alert and an extended alert. You may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on your credit report if you suspect you have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for one year. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft with the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years.

To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact one of the nationwide credit bureaus. A fraud alert is free. The credit bureau you contact must tell the other two, and all three will place an alert on their versions of your report.

For those in the military who want to protect their credit while deployed, an Active Duty Military Fraud Alert lasts for one year and can be renewed for the length of your deployment. The credit bureaus will also take you off their marketing lists for pre-screened credit card offers for two years, unless you ask them not to.

Credit or Security Freezes: You have the right to put a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, free of charge, which makes it more difficult for identity thieves to open new accounts in your name. That's because most creditors need to see your credit report before they approve a new account. If they can't see your report, they may not extend the credit.

How do I place a freeze on my credit reports? There is no fee to place or lift a security freeze. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. For information and instructions to place a security freeze, contact each of the credit reporting agencies at the addresses below:

Experian Security Freeze, PO Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com

TransUnion Security Freeze, PO Box 2000, Chester, PA 19016, www.transunion.com

Equifax Security Freeze, PO Box 105788, Atlanta, GA 30348, www.equifax.com

You'll need to supply your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number and other personal information.

After receiving your freeze request, each credit bureau will provide you with a unique PIN (personal identification number) or password. Keep the PIN or password in a safe place. You will need it if you choose to lift the freeze.

How do I lift a freeze? A freeze remains in place until you ask the credit bureau to temporarily lift it or remove it altogether. If the request is made online or by phone, a credit bureau must lift a freeze within one hour. If the request is made by mail, then the bureau must lift the freeze no later than three business days after getting your request.

If you opt for a temporary lift because you are applying for credit or a job, and you can find out which credit bureau the business will contact for your file, you can save some time by lifting the freeze only at that particular credit bureau. Otherwise, you need to make the request with all three credit bureaus.
