Notice of Data Breach

Dear Sample A. Sample:

We are writing to inform you that Monro, Inc. (“Monro”) recently experienced a security incident that may have resulted in access to some of your personal information. Monro takes the protection and proper use of your personal information seriously and is providing you with notice of this incident to keep you informed. Details follow below.

WHAT HAPPENED: In late 2024, Monro became aware of suspicious activity relating to an employee’s electronic mailbox. Once we became aware of this activity, an investigation was undertaken that ultimately confirmed that an unknown and unauthorized actor accessed the employee’s mailbox and selected files for a limited period of time in late November of last year.

WHAT INFORMATION WAS INVOLVED: A comprehensive review of the impacted mailbox continued through on or about January 28, 2025, which revealed that certain personal information, including your name and social security number, could have been affected. Other data fields at issue could have included address, date of birth, ID number, and certain health information collected from employees, like accident history. Although we do not know what, if any, personal information may have been viewed by the unauthorized third party, Monro is providing this notice as a conservative measure.

WHAT WE ARE DOING: In order to protect against similar incidents in the future, we are taking several precautionary measures, such as changing passwords and modifying internal e-mail settings and controls. We are also engaging in increased user training to further protect our e-mail environment.

WHAT YOU CAN DO: It is always a good idea to consider the below actions to help reduce your risk of identity theft:

- Remain vigilant, especially over the next 12 months, and review your bank accounts, credit card bills and free credit reports for unauthorized activity. Promptly report any suspected identity theft to your local law enforcement agency, the U.S. Federal Trade Commission, your State Attorney General, your financial institution, and to the Fraud Alert phone line of a consumer reporting agency. You can obtain information about fraud alerts and security freezes by contacting one of the three national reporting agencies below:

- Equifax, P.O. Box 740256, Atlanta, GA 30374, www.equifax.com, 1-800-525-6285;
 - Experian, P.O. Box 4500, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com, 1-888-397-3742;
 - TransUnion, 2 Baldwin Place, P.O. Box 1000, Chester, PA 19016, www.transunion.com, 1-800-680-7289.
- Periodically obtain credit reports from each nationwide credit reporting agency and have information relating to fraudulent transactions deleted.
 - Place a fraud alert on your credit file by contacting any of the three credit reporting agencies listed above. A fraud alert temporarily, for a period of 365 days, requires potential creditors to take additional steps to verify your identity before issuing credit in your name.
 - Place a security freeze on your consumer report. A security freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, a security freeze may delay your ability to obtain credit. Please contact one of the three credit reporting agencies listed above for further information.
 - Request and carefully review your free annual consumer credit report by visiting www.annualcreditreport.com or by calling 1-877-322-8228.
 - You can also contact the Federal Trade Commission to obtain information about preventing identity theft and, specifically, setting up fraud alerts and security freezes: Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, D.C. 20580, www.ftc.gov, 1-877-382-4357.
